

Kīngitanga Day

About the Kīngitanga

The Kīngitanga was established in 1858 to unite Māori tribes under the leadership of Pōtatau Te Wherowhero. Te Pahi o Matariki was designed as the crest for the Kīngitanga and underpinned by the motto Ko te Mana Motuhake. This motto is the theme for Kīngitanga Day 2017.

The University of Waikato and Kīngitanga

Since its founding in 1964, the University of Waikato has nurtured strong connections with the Kīngitanga, Waikato-Tainui, and iwi from across the country. The iwi forum of Te Rōpū Manukura sits alongside Council as an expression of partnership under the Treaty of Waitangi, and our University kaumātua, appointed on the nomination of King Tuheitia provides leadership and guidance across a range of University activities. Through our student and staff communities, the ties to the Kīngitanga and to te iwi Māori are constantly renewed and strengthened.

Win Beats headphones, UoW puffer jackets & hoodies

Take a selfie at any 2017 Kīngitanga Day activity, snap us @waikatouni or upload to Instagram using the hashtag #selfie4KDay and be in to win a pair of red Beats Solo3 Wireless Headphones, or other prizes including UoW puffer jackets and hoodies.

Kīngitanga Day

Kīngitanga Day is an opportunity to honour and celebrate this heritage and the rich tapestry of our Māori distinctiveness, which extends to include all students and staff across the University.

Nau mai, haere mai, te tini me te mano!

Te Wiki o te reo Māori at the Library

Time to spare? Come to the Library foyer in the Student Centre to read about the history of the Kīngitanga movement. The Library will also play host to a fun and interactive display supporting te Wiki o te reo Māori. Activities include a student competition to be drawn at 2pm and a giant scrabble game – Hanga Kupu.

5.15pm	Panel presentation: Ngā Tamatoa – reflections on activism Ngā Tamatoa was a radical Māori activist group that emerged in the 1970s and through a series of high-profile protest actions galvanised public discussion about the rights of Māori, the recognition of the Treaty of Waitangi and the role and status of Te Reo Māori. A number of high profile activists such as Taura Eruera, Syd Jackson, Hana Jackson, Tame Iri and Donna Awatere were members. Ngā Tamatoa also promoted the Māori Language Petition led by Hana Jackson, started a court advocacy programme and ran a schools' education programme. This guest panel is a rare coming together of some of the members of Ngā Tamatoa. They will reflect on their aspirations, motivations, political philosophies and actions. Panellists: Des Kahotea, John Ohia, Dr Ngahua Te Awekotuku, Toro Waaka and Morehu McDonald. Facilitator: Professor Linda Tuhiwai Smith Location: Dr John Gallagher Concert Chamber
